Hello Readers!

Ever heard of writer's block? Well it's real! Whenever I am hit by it, I take a step back from my novel writing. There are many ways to do this. Take a bubble bath, I go walking into the New Forest, drink a glass of wine (drink sensibly readers!). Best ways, read a good book or two, Netflix or Flash Fiction Writing!

I am currently working towards my first novel (sorry, no spoilers, yet!). I am happy to share Ronnie and Gregory meeting each other. If Butterscotch comes up again, I may write Chapter Two.

Behind-the-Scenes of Butterscotch!

Oh My Gosh!

This newsletter revealed I have uploaded a new short-short story. My method to editing is ProWriting Aid and the Hemingway Editor. As a writer, this is a quick reference and tools to assist quick story writing.

Butterscotch is my yummy favourite for pudding/ice cream. So when I came up to thinking how to describe a yummy character like Gregory, I wrote it. The original title was 'The Neighbour'. But the description was so good, thus the new story title.

I was extremely nervous publishing the story online. As a writer, it was my first time sharing my stories beyond my group of friends and loved ones. I like to thank the motivation and support from the Writing Community on Twitter.
